Increased tuition fee for students with insufficient credits left in their learning account(*)

(*)Learning Account: each student in the Flemish higher education receives 140 credits which he or she can stake in an initial bachelor's or master's programme with the aim of earning them back. The Flemish government funds initial bachelor's and master's programme students only with sufficient learning accounts.

Students with insufficient credits in their learning account will be charged an extra € 11,4 for the part of their registration for which they have insufficient learning account.

Remarks:

- No increased tuition fee is charged for students eligible for study grants of the Flemish community.
- Students transferring within the KU Leuven Association from an academic to a professional study programme will not be charged an increased tuition fee for the academic year during which the transfer takes place.

For more information on the learning account of students, see <http://www.luca-arts.be/en/learning-account-each-student-higher-education>
